Like you, our greatest concern is your pet's safety and comfort here at Petstar Animal Care. Before your pet undergoes surgery, it will be examined for any problems that could interfere with anesthesia. Your pet will also have a Pre-anesthetic Blood test performed prior to any surgical procedure at Petstar Animal Care. This test will give us an inside look at your pet's vital organs and let us know that everything is functioning normally before undergoing anesthesia. Our pre-anesthetic screening consists of blood chemistries that check for disorders of the liver, kidneys, blood sugar levels, protein levels and other disease processes as well as complete blood count which checks levels of white and red blood cells, platelets and electrolytes. For our more mature patients (over 6 years of age) and for any pets with chronic health problems, we may recommend more extensive medical tests to evaluate the safety of anesthetics and surgery. A Doctor or technician will discuss this with you. These tests will help the veterinarian to detect problems that could possibly delay surgery until these problems can be resolved. Our laboratory is fully equipped and staffed to perform these important tests and results will be available immediately to review before anesthesia or surgery. Even when these tests are normal, we consider the information to be extremely valuable because they serve as baseline data for us to compare in the event that your pet becomes ill or has another procedure in the future.

Please let us know if you have any questions about your pet's pre-anesthetic testing, surgical procedure or recovery. A Report Card will be sent home with you including detailed instructions on your Pet's post surgical care.
